

Days Between Oral Argument and Opinion Filing<sup>1</sup>

This table shows the average number of days between oral argument and the filing of majority opinions authored by each of the justices. Given that a variety of factors could influence the length of time between oral argument and the filing of an opinion in a particular case—including the time taken by other justices to write concurring or dissenting opinions—averages for individual justices should be compared over an extended period.

	Number of Majority Opinions Authored	Ave. No. of Days From Oral Argument to Opinion Filing
Abrahamson	7	115
Bradley	8	90
Crooks	9	97
Prosser	9	173
Roggensack	8	171
Ziegler	8	114
Gableman	8	156

<sup>1</sup> The table does not include Ozanne, in which the short majority opinion was co-authored by three justices and issued in expedited fashion.
