

Days Between Oral Argument and Opinion Filing

This table shows the average number of days between oral argument and the filing of majority opinions authored by each of the justices. Given that a variety of factors could influence the length of time between oral argument and the filing of an opinion in a particular case—including the time taken by other justices to write concurring or dissenting opinions—averages for individual justices should be compared over an extended period.¹

	Number of Majority Opinions Authored in cases that included oral argument	Average Number of Days From Oral Argument to Opinion Filing
Abrahamson	12	77
Bablitch	10	87
Steinmetz	9	52
Day	13	111
Heffernan	10	121
Ceci	12	87
Callow	11	54

¹ This table does not include six cases in which no oral argument took place.
